PREFACE

This Call genealogy was prepared in 1898 by my father, Benjamin Franklin Cummings II. At his instance, about 1903, I made a number of hktograph copies of my father's manuscript. At his death these reproductions came into my custody.

At the present date, May 1940, I am having bound two carbon copies of the original manuscript, and also eight hektograph copies. One of these is intended for the Utah Genealogical Society Library and one copy for the Brigham Young University Library.

The Utah branches of the Call family will find their connection with the Call family on page 28, Cyril Call.

Professor B.F. Cummings III

and Classical Languages,

1837, who was probably christened Phillip in the town Thomas. The given name John is very common among the male descendants of Thomas.

While the proof that Phillip Hall of Ipswich was a son of Thomas is only circumstantial, the compiler regards it as sufficient for the purpose of this record. Phillip's name does not occur on any civil, church, land or probate records in Charlestown or Middlesex county, save in the petition to it is known that Thomas had at least one child besides John & at 1651 Thomas Frost, whose name is likewise from all these records, except that it is incidentally mentioned in the will of his brother Thomas. The name was born ab 1650, some years before her parents came to New and was one of the three children they brought with them. This sufficiently explains why a brother has not been recorded at Charlestown. Thomas says her brother Thomas was b in England, and there is nothing inconsistent in the fact that Phillip was the third child b town. The

Jonathan constantly assigns among the posterity of Phillip as it does among the descendants of the other son of Thomas; and the trade of potter pot common among Phillip's progeny as it was in other lines descended from Thomas & his

While the compiler firmly believes Phillip to be the immigrant Thomas, his posterity are given in a separate record from that of the other name, partly because the connection is not fully proved, and partly because Phillip's posterity lived at a distance from the main body of the family.

With singular persistence a tradition has been handed down among members of the family that the name in colonial times was Hatch, and the dropping of the "W" is variously accounted for. So far as the family in America is concerned, there is absolutely not a shadow of foundation for this tradition, and it should be at once discarded. Whatever form a surname of the family may have borne in former ages in England, no branch of it in this country ever bore the Scottish variation; nor has the compiler found any reason to believe that any of the old World ancestors or branches used the prefix. Other inscriptions, some of the records of fifty line, still to reference to and relating here if you will make, but it is not.

JAMES CALL (Timothy, John, Isaac) b 1735. The compiler has found and received from correspondents several varying accounts of his wives and children, and given the following as being likely the most correct though it may contain errors. This James Call is said to have a 1st, Anne Powers, b. 1?, 86, Rebecca, dau of John Masters of Woodstock Vt, 88, - - - Hutchins who survived him and a Rev Joseph Call, a Baptist preacher, whose connection with the Call family is not traced. The author of the Bristol genealogy says this James Call had "10 sons and four dau." It is believed that most and perhaps all of his children were b in Woodstock. Whether all the children are here assigned to the right mothers is uncertain, but the compiler has patiently sought to ascertain the truth and here gives his conclusions, regretting that they are not more fully verified. James Call is credited with the following children, the last one b who he was ab 88 years old, if the compiler's informants are to be believed.

FIRST GENERATION

THOMAS CALL of Faversham, England and Charlestown Mass. is deemed the first generation of the following record.

SECOND GENERATION

PHILLIP CALL (Thos) is supposed to have been one of the three children of Thomas and Bennett Call whom they brought with them when they settled in Charlestown Mass in 1636. If so he was b ab 1627. Many circumstances go to show he was son of Thomas, one significant one being the fact that Thomas was a baker, a trade handed down among Phillip's posterity. The latter was a resident of Ipswich Mass in 1663. Little is known of him, and no record of his wife or children has been found by the compiler. It is supposed that he was father of Phillip b ab 1655 (f)

THIRD GENERATION.

PHILLIP CALL (Phil, Thos) b ab 1655, is supposed to be the same Phillip Call who was a taxpayer in Portsmouth in 1693 (in early colonial times there was much contention between Puritans and the Episcopalians and alternately held control at Portsmouth), resulting either in a failure to keep, or the de-destruction of records, so that much difficulty was encountered by the compiler in efforts to trace his descendants. Day after day was spent in searching records in and near Portsmouth with only slight results. No record of his family was found but there is evidence that he had a son named for him:

Phillip b ab 1685 (f)

FOURTH GENERATION.

PHILLIP CALL (Phil, Phil, Thos) b ab 1685, was a weaver. The name of his wife is unknown. There is reason to believe that his life up to about middle age was passed in Portsmouth, when he became interested in some of the numerous colonization schemes then in vogue there. He acquired lands in a new settlement called Contoocook, in the interior of N H, and was living there in 1746. In 1750 he deeded land to Moses Call, supposed to be his son. In 1755 he deeded land to Sarah Call, spinster, of Durham, termed in the deed his dau. It is known that he had a son Stephen, and it is supposed that he was father of the other children here credited to him; but the compiler has found no record of his children, and makes up the list of them as here given mainly from inferences drawn from land records and other sources, with the qualification that it lacks confirmation. All the children named here lived to adult age and bought and sold land. They were probably b in Portsmouth:

Sarah b ab 1712
Moses b ab 1714 (f)
John b ab 1716 sold land in Contoocook 1744-5
Phillip b ab 1718 (f)
Obediah b ab 1720 sold land in Newton 1764. He was then of Lincoln co Me.
Stephen b ab 1722

Phillip Sr and Jr and Obediah were settlers in Kennebec Me by 1756.

FIFTH GENERATION.

MOSES CALL (Phil,Phil,Phil,Thos) b ab 1714, is given as father of Silas, but the relationship has not been fully verified by the compiler. He was of Kingston 1747 and sold land there and in Haverhill district. No record of his wife or children has been found and he can here be given only one child:

Silas b ab 1740 (f)

PHILLIP CALL (Phil,Phil,Phil,Thos) b ab 1718, was an early settler of Salisbury, (1750). His wife was there murdered by Indians. The record of his children has not been obtained, but it is reasonably certain that among them was John and probably Nathaniel, who are here credited to him. It is also supposed that he was grandfather to Phillip, Stephen, Sarah and Susanna, who are accordingly here credited to him as such, the name of their father being unknown.

Children of Phillip Call of Salisbury

THE CALLS OF KITTERY, Me.

For more than a hundred years a branch of the Call family has flourished at Kittery Me., a village just across the mouth of the Piscataqua river from Portsmouth N H, but whether it is descended from Phillip or one of the older sons of the immigrant Thomas, the compiler has not ascertained. Mr John C Call, an intelligent farmer of Kittery Point, from whom the compiler obtained a record of his branch, believes that his great-grandfather, Jonn Call, born about 1750, lived at Kennebunk Me, but has no proof to offer that such was the case. All that the compiler can give here are the names and facts obtained from Mr Call and the various records that are found at Kittery, of which a thorough search was made.

JOHN CALL b ab 1750, is said to have been a resident of Kennebunk Me. The compiler surmises that he more likely lived in Kennebeck county, that state, but has no further information concerning him save that he was father of.
